To whom it may concern,

As a matter of notice to any concerned business owner or private individual on Washington Island, please note that on Friday, January 18th at 10:30 am until 12:30pm in the Rutledge Room at the Community Center, there will be a question and answer session held regarding questions and concerns of Washington Island in regards to Door County Zoning and Planning issues and how they effect our Island community.

You are invited to attend and ask any and all questions and provide comments and suggestions to rules that are currently in place in the Zoning Ordinances that affect the Island and how they pertain to you or your business.

The intent is not to be wild and crazy, get out of control or a "slap the county in the face" session. My intent is to start fresh new dialog with the County in hopes that maybe some good can come about to facilitate new rules, modify old or maybe even eliminate ones that have an adverse effect of what we as a community feel are needed to provider and promote a fair and equitable Economic climate on the Island, but also to sustain a climate that preserves the Island for what it is to all of us.

Please attend and ask questions, voice your concerns, make comments and suggestions and site-specific examples that you have dealt with that have hindered your businesses or projects in one way or another.

If you have any questions regarding this meeting and want further clarifications of its intent, please call me personally. My cell number is 920-883-6601. Day or night!

Happy Holidays to all,

Joel Gunnlaugsson
Town Chairman
